luxuriousBy A CustomerA thoroughly inspirational book on an activity that is so often just a matter of buying paper and sticking a ready made bow on if you're feeling extravagant. The materials she uses range from everyday household items and inexpensive or recycled bits and pieces through to more luxurious trimmings. As the saying goes "It's the thought that counts" and anyone receiving a gift wrapped using these ideas is sure to know a lot of thought and care went into it.

Encouraging her readers to break away from store-wrapped gifts, Norden demonstrates clever ways of wrapping packages quickly and creatively. She explains classic wraps, as well as how to make a virtue of awkward shapes; a child's bicycle can be transformed into Pluto the dog. Includes instructions for easy ways to make gift wrap and bows. 80 color illustrations.
