Frank Giorgini : Handmade Tiles: Designing, Making, Decorating (Lark Ceramics Book) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Handmade Tiles: Designing, Making, Decorating (Lark Ceramics Book):

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. one of the best books on the subjectBy dahlia53Great book; beautiful gallery of the possibilities inherent in making and installing tiles. covers press molds, carving, decorating unfired and bisque tiles, firing to hardess, glazing, mosaics, design, and installation. It also covers making your own tools equipment, and health and safety. All this in only about 140 pages. The appendices are also very helpful with things like cone firing temps and slip and reduction glazes.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Outstanding work. the work of Solon and Schimmel which began in the 1920's in San Jose, CA, and is still producing tiles as Stonelight Tiles, Their tiles were used in our house built in the 1930's in Los Gatos and in many other more famous buildings in California0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Photos and DirectionsBy ShellySome really great photos and directions for different ways to make tiles.

"Intended for beginners, as well as for more advanced ceramists and collectors, this book guides the reader through each step of the tilemaking process, with detailed, easily understood explanations, and corresponding how-to' photos. For inspiration, the book is also filled with photos of tilework by artists past and present."-- "Ceramics Monthly.

"There is a lot of know-how in "Handmade Tiles."-- "Arts Activities. 144 pages (all in color), 8 1/2 x 11.
